

Quilters By the Sea

Voluntary code of Conduct

The members of the Quilters by the Sea agree to the following codes of conduct

- Respect: the members of the guild will treat each other with dignity, courtesy, and respect, and be respectful of their boundaries and privacy. This includes being respectful of cultural, ethnic, and national differences.
- Honesty: act honestly and ethically, and don't provide false or misleading information.
- Accountability: be responsible and accountable for your actions and carry out your role to the best of your ability, not coming to guild functions impaired.
- Communication: communicate openly and respectfully with others, and use positive, inclusive language.
- Conflict Resolution: resolve conflicts with kindness, humility, and forgiveness and avoid gossip.
- Safety: be responsible for your own safety and your surroundings. Be respectful of other people's belongings and property. If you are ill or may have been exposed please be polite and do not attend guild functions. Please remember that you are responsible for your guest.
- Compliance: follow all relevant policies, procedures, rules and regulations of the rental property.
- Timeliness: be punctual for meetings.